    - Action Item for Treatment Providers: work to ethically bring aggregate, non-identifying data on the drug positivity for patients in your care
      - a. UTMC, Arrowhead, Promedica, Brightview, Pinnacle, Midwest committed to working on this before next meeting

3. Roundtable Discussion

2023 Overdose Fatalities

Lucas County Coroner's Office

Frequency of Common Drugs of Positive Findings Guide:

6-MAM

6-Monoacetylmorphine is an opioid and one of three active metabolites of heroin. Morphine is also an active metabolite of heroin.

Carfentanil

Carfentanil is an extremely potent opioid analgesic used in veterinary medicine to anesthetize large animals such as elephants and rhinoceroses.

Mitragynine

Mitragynine is one of two major psychoactive ingredients in Kratom. Kratom is mostly used orally in the form of a tablet, capsule, or extract. Low doses of Kratom produce stimulant effects. At high doses, users experience sedative effects.

Acetyl Fentanyl and Parafluorofentanyl

Fentanyl analogs - Acetyl Fentanyl is an opioid estimated to be 15 times more potent than morphine. Parafluorofentanyl is an opioid estimated to be 50 to 100 times more potent than morphine.

Etizolam

Etizolam is a benzodiazepine and treatment for anxiety disorders

Xylazine

Xylazine is a veterinary tranquilizer that has been found in some illicit drug supplies. Xylazine can slow breathing, heart rate, and blood pressure to dangerously low levels. Overdose reversal medications do not reverse the effects of xylazine. Experts recommend that people give opioid overdose reversal medications to those experiencing symptoms of an overdose with suspected xylazine exposure, since opioids are often present with xylazine. In addition to risk for overdose, repeated xylazine use is associated with skin wounds, such as open sores (ulcers) and abscesses.

Pentylone

Pentylone is a synthetic cathinone being sold in various areas as MDMA. Synthetic cathinones produce similar effects to common stimulants like methamphetamine or MDMA. They are often reported to produce stronger effects that wear off quicker than MDMA. This can lead to people taking more, which increases the negative effects and toxicity.
